THOSE NAIL MARKS.

A PURTHER EXAMINATION OF THE DENTS ON MARY STANNARD'S CHEEK.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 10, 1879. The discovery on the face of the murdered girl of marks claimed to have been imprinted by Hayden's brogan heel appears to be regarded by defendant's connsel as testimony of signal importance. This is evidenced by the action they have taken since the discovery was revealed. The critical examination nade by one of their experts, Professor Sanford, last Saturday was supplemented by a further examination this afternoon. On this occasion the defence called in several gentlemen of high scientific reputation in Connecticut. The exwas at the Yale Medical College, as before, and representing the defence were Drs. Hayer and Ellsworth, of Hartford, and Professor sanford and Drs. Gibbon, Eacon and Carmalt, of this city. The State was represented in the investi-gation by Professor White and Drs. T. B. Jewett, of nis city, and C. M. Carleton, of Norwich. Of the causel in the case, Mr. Hubbard, representing a, was there, and Mr. Lindsey, an architect of this city, who has assisted in making measurenents and diagrams, in addition to the work of this aracter performed by the physicians. The instigation was with closed doors. It is understood a Professor Sanford closely questioned Professor White as to the time of the discovery, and that be stated that a Boston physician, Dr. Treadwell, intimated a suspicion that the indentations were nail marks several months ago. He had been on a visit to the college, as he is to be called as an expert in the case, and among other things he had been shown these marks.

the case, and among other things he had been shown these marks.

THE MARKS INCOMING INDISTINCT.

It is now said that the indentations are less clearly defined than they were two or three weeks ago, and this is ascribed to the exposure and handling of the ghastly object during recent examinations. The indentations do not present that square and clearly outlined appearance they formerly did, and two or three have become aimost imperceptible. However, a sufficient number remain, it is claimed, and with their relative positions so clearly definable as to support with accuracy the measurements which have been made. The defence, it is intimated, may make a point that the late day (so many months after death) at which these measurements were made and recorded in diagram form very materially lessens the value of the evidence.

gram form very materially lessens the value of the evidence.

There has been much speculation and inquiry as to the source from which the Herald correspondent obtained information of the discovery of this new evidence. Suffice it to say that it was known to him under an injunction of secrecy several days before it was published. When it was finally communicated by the proper parties to the counsel for the defence, in order that they might call in their experts and make an investigation, the injunction of secrecy was removed, for the State's counsel had thereby divulged their secret. Then the Herald first gave to the public this important information, which had previously been known to only half a dozen persons closely identified with the prosecution.

THE GREENFIELD CASE.

ANOTHER LETTER BECEIVED FROM OHIO-WHAT A BARBER PRETENDS TO KNOW OF THE MURDER OF MRS. GREENFIELD.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE HERALD.] SYRACUSE, N. Y., Nov. 10, 1879. The following letter relating to the case of Nathan Orlando Greenfield, under sentence of death for the murder of his wife, was received by Postmaster Chase to-day. It is given verbatim:-

WARREN, Ill., Nov. 7, 1879.

DEAR SIR-I think it is my dutey to let the publick know what I know a bout the murder of Nathan Orlando Greenfold. I am a barber by trade and I am runing a shop hear. A man came in to my shop and got shaved. After he got shaved he red my police news, and reading a bout the murder he says he knows the man that killed the woman. He said he borded with them in Ohio, and the man gave their names as Keliog. He said they told him they killed the woman and told him never to squeil on them. This man that told me this news told me not to say supthing about it for my part I Dont like to see an insont man hung; for any more news write or telegraph and I shall tell you all I know about it. WARREN, Ill., Nov. 7, 1879. write or telegraph and i shall tell you all I know about it Yours, PATRICK O'LOUGHLIN, Warren, ill, barber.

ZECHMAN'S NEW TRIAL.

LEBANON, Pa., Nov. 10, 1879. The trial of George Zechman was continued to-The cross-examination of Henry F. Wise continued, but nothing new was elicited, bout the time the conspiracy to murder Raber was concocted the house and barn Maker was concoted the house and bar of Wise were burned to the ground an their contents destroyed, and with the money which he received from insurance companies for the de-struction of his household effects he bought the policies on Raber's life. Counsel for the defene endeavored to show that Wise had fred the property inneavored to show that Wise had fired the property innself, but were unsuccessful. Lona Peters was called and repeated her evidence a given at the first trial. A number of witnesses rere examined in relation to Zechman's first trial of conviction, after which the Commonwealth losed, and Colonel Gobon opened for the defence in brief address. court then adjourned until to-morrow.

EVIDENCE AGAINST RIDDLE.

IBY TELEGRAPH TO THE HERALD.

Nonwich, Conn., Nov. 10, 1879. It has been announced in legal circles to-day the City Attorney Ripley has discovered very damagin circumstantial evidence sgainst William Riddle, wh is held in the County Jail here awaiting trial at t January term of the Superior Court for the alleges poisoning of his wife. Although nothing can be gathered as to its mature a prominent lawyer, who would not allow his name to be used, told the HERALD reporter to-night the time prosecution were satisfied that the newly unearthed evidence will have a decided effect upon the trial.

PASSAIC'S TRAGEDY.

WAS JOHN NIEUMAN MURDERED BY HIS SON?-TESTIMONY AT THE INQUEST TO SHOW THI

Further developments were made yesterday in the case of John Nieuman, whose body was found on Saturday morning in his barn in Passaic, N. J. Counsel for defence are making strenuous efforts on behalf of the son of the murdered man, and claim that they can now establish a theory which will clear him. After Dr. J. C. Herrick, who made the post-mortem examination, had turned the body over to the relatives, Drs. R. A. Terhune and F. W. Rice made another critical examination of the the defence, who now claim that it will aid them materially in establishing the theory that the old man came to his death by failing from the ladder.

They claim that no two of the six wounds were the same instrument, but that the man came to his death by falling from the ladder. They claim that no two of the six wounds were made by the same instrument, but that the ladder in falling threw the old man against a lot of farming utensils, and that the disorder, from which it was argued that a desperate struggle had taken place, was only caused by the old man's attempt to leave the barn after falling. The blood on the floor and eisewhere and the many bloody imprints of fingers are alleged as due to the same cause. After the examination of the remains by Drs. Rice and Terbune the body was prepared for burial. The funeral will take place this morning, at eleven o'clock, from the Dutch Reformed Church at Passaic. Koman Nieuman, who is charged with the murder, remains in the County Jail at Paterson under struct surveillance. It was feared he intended to commit suicide. He acts very rationally at present, but declines to talk about the murder. The popular feeling against him is strong.

ONE WINDER EXAMINED.

The inquest was begun yesterday atternoon at the Lyceum Theatre, Passaic. The Coroner, jury and lawyers occupied the stage and wings, and quite a large audience was assembled. The only witness examined was Cornelius A. Van Houten, who owns the farm adjoining that of the deceased. He drove over to Nieuman's place on Saturday morning, and found Koman lying on the front stoop groaning: he advised him tog to into the house out of the damp air; Koman told him he did not care what became of him and refused to do so; witness then went to the next neighbor's, where he was informed that Koman had brought them the hows of the murder was committed; Koman had fat the largy of the house had at once exclaimed, "Great God, Koman, you have not stained your hand with your father's blood?" Koman left without saying a word; witness also testified to the savageness of the down that the word of the was no morning and had the hand been difficulty is that he would give any man $5 who would go into the yard for the whole of Passaic, even when the dog was chained; he

MYSTERIOUS DEATH.

A LONG ISLAND CITY ALDERMAN FOUND PROS-TRATE IN THE STREET.

In a ward of Bellevue Hospital vesterday morning Michael J. Crowley, an Alderman of Long Island City, and a contractor of some means, died of injuries which were probably the result of violence, but the precise causes of which have yet to be fully investigated. On Saturday evening he left his home at Dutch Kills came to New York. Those who met him say he was quite sober, and later on, when he left McTherry's saloon, where he had some oysters before crossing the river, he had still no sign of having drunk. After eight o'clock he was not seen till half-past one on the following morning, when Policeman Lott found him lying in the doorway of a butcher's shop at No. 612 Third avenue. He was a butcher's shop at No. 612 Third avenue. He was lying prone upon his back, and around him a number of ash barrels had been placed, as though to conceal him from bypassers. The policeman summoned a comrade and took the man to the Twenty-first precinct station house, where he was ufficiently aroused to give his name and residence. As he was believed to give his name and residence. As he was believed to a charge of intoxication, but when his sagacious captors came to take him off in the morning they found him lying senseless upon the stone floor. They then for the first time discovered that the man was paralyzed by spinal injuries and not prostrated by liquor. An ambulance was sent for and Dr. Feeney examined the patient, who said he had been hurt, but was unable to tell where or how. On the way to Bellevue Hospital Crowley told the dector that he had drunk a good deal on reaching New York and could not remember what happened to him. He sank rapidly after reaching the hospital and before long expired.

AN INVESTIGATION.

sank rapidly after reaching the hospital and before long expired.

AN INVESTIGATION.

Policeman Lott investigated the case and reported that Crowley, apparently intoxicated, had entered a saloon at No. 614 Third avenue, about one o'clock on the morning of the 8th. A party of men were playing cards at a table, and deceased leaned against the table, causing it to tilt. He was driven away to another table which was unoccupied. It is alleged that he sat upon the table, fell asleep and tumbled to the floor striking on his head. Thereupon two of the men who had been playing cards, named John Turner and George Henry, carried him from the saloon and placed him in the doorway of the butcher shop, where he was subsequently found. As a rumor gained circulation that the deceased had received his injuries at the hands of Turner, who had flung an empty beer cask at him, the latter was taken into custody. He is a circus employé, residing at No. 242 West Forty-first street. On being arraigned before Justice Smith in the Fifty-seventh Street Police Court he denied his guilt. He said that a number of witnesses were on hand when Crowley fell, and the magistrate remanded him till they could be procured as witnesses. Deputy Coroner MacWhinnie found that death was caused by a dislocation of the spine between the sixth and seventh cervical vertebre, accompanied by a rupture of the ligaments, causing paralysis and paraplegia.

A POLICE COURT CLERK APPOINTED.

The Board of Police Justices held a special meeting in the Tombs vesterday to elect a clerk of the Special incumbent, who has held the position for the past six years at a salary of $5,000 a year. Mr. Jones made a vigorous struggle to retain the place until next January, claiming that he was appointed until that time and could not be legally removed. The justices were, however, fully prepared for the objections raised by the present clerk, and Justice Butler H. Bixby presented resolutions to the effect that the Board could elect Mr. Jones' successor, to take the position at once, or that such successor could act as clerk until it was decided whether or not he was entitled to the position before January next. The candidates for the position were Joseph A. Monheimer, M. Jones and W. H. Corsa. Mr. Monheimer's business is that of contractor. In 1872 he was elected Alderman-at-Large on the Apollo Hall ticket. This was during the late Mayor Havemeyer's term of office. A deadlock took place over the appointment of the present Board of Police Justices. It is said that Butler H. Bixby was appointed police magistrate largely through his influence. Mr. Mouheimer has also been a director in the Second Avenue Railroad. He is a democrat, and lives in the Eighteenth Assembly district, which is comprised within Senator-elect Bixby's district. Justice Bixby proposed his name, and before the roll was announced his election was made unanimous. He holds the position until January, 1837, Justice Wandell was the only magistrate absent. six years at a salary of $5,000 a year. Mr. Jones
